NASHVILLE ATTORNEY DISBARRED

Carroll Thomas Strohm, a Nashville attorney, was disbarred by Order of the Tennessee Supreme Court on November 30, 2004. Strohm was temporarily suspended from the practice of law since July 2, 2003, and a petition for discipline was pending against him.

Strohm filed an affidavit consenting to disbarment on November 22, 2004. He acknowledged that he could not successfully defend the petition for discipline.

A disbarred attorney may not apply for reinstatement for at least five years after the effective date of disbarment. A formal public hearing must be conducted before a disbarred attorney can be reinstated.

The Supreme Court of Tennessee makes the final determination on reinstatement of a disbarred attorney.
